RIVERDALE STIRRED

AGAIN THIS BEAUTIFUL STREET PROTESTS AGAINST CONTAMINATION

It has not been long since Riverdale Drive, one of Glendale's most beautiful streets, was greatly excited over the contemplated location of a sort of a hospital within its spacious boundaries. This danger removed quiet again settled down upon its residents, only to be broken by another threatened desecration. This time it is oil tanks that threaten to mar the beauteous aspect of fair Riverdale, tanks of the John D. oil company. Utterly unimpressed by the $100,000,000 Christmas gifts of the oil magnate, the Riverdale residents unite in protest at the intended invasion. To lend added point to their contention, Ernest Rappold of Los Angeles, who recently bought an acre of ground about halfway between Pacific Avenue and San Fernando Road of Frank C. Follansbee, paying him $3150 therefor, with the avowed intention of erecting thereon a handsome residence with a fine botanical garden in the rear, now balks at the idea of locating a show place such as his would be right next to a battery of big unsightly oil tanks. Riverdale residents hope to prevent the location of the tanks along Riverdale Drive and recommended that they be located in the industrial district further north.

By the way, two handsome residences have recently been erected along Riverdale Drive, one of six rooms, one-story construction at No. 450, by Andrew Dorschner, and the other a two-story five-room house of English cottage style, mansard roof and shake siding. This was built by Mark L. Russell, who came out here from Los Angeles a short time ago. He and his wife are greatly pleased with their surroundings and thoroughly satisfied with Glendale as a place of residence.

CHRISTMAS AT WHITE INN

Mrs. Jack Thomas of the White Inn reports a much heavier holiday business than she anticipated and she is well pleased with the growing popularity of her attractive cafe. On Christmas day it was beautifully decorated with pepper boughs and on each table was a pot of blooming poinsettias. Tables were reserved for a large number of dinner parties, the list of hosts and hostesses including:

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Shaw and party of fifteen.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Woodberry and party of six.

Mrs. Lerchen of Eagle Rock and party of five.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley and party of five.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Parker and party of four.

Mrs. Cooper of Los Angeles and party of five.

Jim Kiser of Los Angeles and party of six.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

BIG PARTY ENTERTAINED AT HOME OF MR. AND MRS. C. W. INGLEDUE

The happiest day of all the year was delightfully celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ingledue, 501 East Wilson Street, by a merry party of friends, many of them coming from Lima, Ohio, but spending the winter in Glendale. The house was decorated in the Christmas colors, and a tree reaching to the ceiling was loaded with gifts for every one, "just what they wanted," though in miniature, except the members of the Ingledue family, who were more than surprised and pleased with the gifts showered upon them. They were distributed by the host to the waiting owners, the last but not the least being reserved for himself. Some one knowing of his weakness for the famous New England doughnut gave him a string of them with the following toast attached:

A Christmas Toast to our Host.

Of all the things upon this tree
These Doughnuts sure look good to me.
All fixed up fine upon a string—
Each one a perfect golden ring.

Of all the things you each did get,
The "Soldier Boy," "The Sun Bonnet,"
The candies, jokes and things most fine,
Not one can beat this gift of mine.

Not just because they're good to eat,

LIEUTENANT HAWKINS

GLENDALE BOY TO PILOT BIG ARMY CURTIS AIRPLANE HERE THIS WEEK

Lieutenant Walter B. Hawkins, late instructor in formation flying for two years at Kelly Field, Texas, now residing with his parents at 420 East Harvard Street, this city, will pilot a big army Curtiss airplane from Aviation Field, Los Feliz Road, adjacent to tile factory, for the Los Angeles Times Flying Circus on Friday, Saturday and Monday, January 2, 3, 5. It was originally intended that this circus should visit here last September, but owing to the fact that a suitable field for aviation could not be found at that time Glendale was passed up. Since then this flying circus has visited every town in Southern California from Fresno to the Imperial Valley, with the result that two thousand boys and girls have had a free airplane ride. Lieutenant Hawkins didn't like the idea of his home town being the only one in Southern California to be denied this pleasure and since his return from the northern trip he has searched very diligently for a suitable field. His efforts have been rewarded by securing the field on Los Feliz Road near S. P. railway tracks, where he will make flights daily next Friday, Saturday and Monday and every boy and girl in Glendale has a chance to take a thrilling ride free of from ten to fifteen minutes, fifteen hundred to two thousand feet altitude over our beautiful city. Any one securing six new three months' subscriptions to the Los Angeles Times gets a free airplane ride.

Lieutenant Hawkins has probably carried more passengers in the air than any other aviator in America, and this fact speaks volumes for his skill and the safety of aviation today, with the new big army Curtis airplanes. Lieutenant Hawkins is now employed by the Mercury Aviation Company, De Mille Field, Hollywood. Further information in regard to these flights is given in display advertisements in another column.

SCHOOLS AGAIN OPEN

The High School and grammar schools opened this morning after a two weeks' vacation. They will be dismissed for Thursday, New Year's Day, but sessions will be held Friday.

BOB DAY'S ART WORK

Bob Day of 641 North Brand Boulevard has recently gained much notoriety as an artist. Bob has been a student of cartooning and art for several years and is now Art Editor for a Los Angeles magazine. A year ago when he was in school in Los Angeles, he edited a high school annual and was cartoonist on the school paper for about a year and a half.

WORTHY CHRISTMAS GIFTS

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Central Christian church made twenty-three night gowns for the little children at the County Hospital. Miss Cleo Stoler took them down on Christmas eve and they were most thankfully received by the matron in charge. The primary department of the Christian Sunday School remembered the little ones of the hospital in a different but fully as acceptable a manner, in making for them scrapbooks filled with beautiful pictures.

DRAMATIC SUCCESS

ELINOR FIELD FINISHING FIVE-REEL COMEDY DRAMA FOR THE SCREEN

Elinor Field of 827 South Glendale Avenue, a motion picture player for the past four years, is proving her value. About two months ago she began working on five-reel comedy-drama features at the National Studios in Hollywood. She finished her first picture very well, and all were pleased with it. Immediately she began work on the second five-reeler, which will soon be finished.

Elinor started into motion picture work about four years ago at the Mack Sennett Studios. After about two years there, she went to the Christie Studio, where she played leads in two-reel comedy plays. The more dramatic work is difficult to play, but Miss Field is playing her parts in fine style.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Tuesday. No important change in temperature.

COAL MEN MEET IN CHICAGO

MINE OPERATORS DEMAND THAT PRESIDENT'S THREE-MAN COMMISSION BE REPLACED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Leading soft coal operators are conferring here today to decide their attitude toward the president's coal commission. Bituminous mine owners are said to fear that the awarding of a more than 14 per cent increase will bring the cost so high as to ruin the coal business. Operators plan to demand a new coal tribunal to take the place of the president's three-man commission.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Jenkins, charged with collusion with the bandits who abducted him will be tried before a federal or a state court. The prosecuting attorney of Puebla has turned over all his evidence to the Supreme Court. He declares he has "new and damaging evidence" against Jenkins.

NEW TRIAL RESUMED

WITNESS CALLED TO TESTIFY IN EFFORT TO ESTABLISH PRISONER'S SANITY OR INSANITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Although jail attaches insist that Harry New is near collapse his trial was resumed shortly after ten o'clock this morning. When New appeared in court he seemed little more tired and haggard than on previous days. Attorneys say his condition is being watched. Albert Nathan, a newspaper man, was the first witness called. The attorneys immediately engaged in argument as to whether Nathan was competent to testify as to New's sanity. The court finally had Nathan's testimony postponed until this afternoon. Frank G. Webb, the cook at a Santa Monica ranch where New worked for a time was called and testified as to New's peculiar actions on several occasions.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DUBLIN OUTBREAK

LONDON PAPERS RETICENT IN COMMENTS ON RIOT WHICH OCCURRED NEAR HOME OF LORD FRENCH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Newspaper comments on yesterday's outbreak in Dublin were guarded owing to mystery surrounding the affair. The Chronicle declared the government should not be influenced by this "reign of terror." The outbreak occurred near Lord French's home. Lieut. Boast of the British army and Lawrence Carey, a civilian were killed during the riot.

TRAIL OF KIDNAPPED BABY GROWING COLD

SUSPECT ARRAIGNED

MAN ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY OF S. BERMAN'S TAILOR SHOP GIVEN HEARING

The daring and almost successful attempt at a daylight robbery of S. Berman's tailor shop at 122 North Brand Wednesday afternoon, which was frustrated by the prompt action of Mrs. Louis Delonco of the Glendale Dye Works, 135-A South Brand, has developed some rather remarkable features. The man arrested for the crime has been positively identified as the same person who was taken into custody a few days previously charged with attempting to break into the Glendale Dye Works. He left a jimmy and an old overcoat by the window he had almost broken through. The man gave the name of Miller and said he was from Burbank, where his mother lived and his sister worked in the telephone exchange. He was a dope fiend and bore the marks of a skilled burglar. When arraigned for the crime there was not enough evidence adduced to hold him and he was released. Having no place to spend the night he was kindly taken in by A. C. Valentine of the Vert-Mont hotel. He disappeared early the next morning and a watch and pocket book disappeared at the same time, presumably in his company.

The man gives the name of Glasscock at times and again that of Wood and says he is from Burbank.

He was arraigned this forenoon, informed of his legal rights in the case and will be given opportunity to furnish bail, failing which he will be committed to the county jail to await his preliminary trial, which will be held early in January.

REALTY TRANSFERS

The White Real Estate Company of East Broadway has been quite busy during December. Among the transactions made by them, they report the following:

The purchase by the White Real Estate Company of property owned by Mrs. Paxton, the ground being located at 317 to 319 East Chestnut street and property owned by J. D. Cole, located at 501 North Louise. The Chestnut property was later sold to J. D. Rose.

E. L. Walker, who recently purchased through White the property at 1427 Rock Glen from W. T. Millham of Detroit, bought another bit of property at 653 North Central avenue from Charles Kerns.

Mrs. Parker's place at 441 Ivy street was sold to Miss Houdyshell of 308 North Orange avenue.

FIRE ON NORTH GLENDALE AVE.

Two engines and the fire laddies of Station No. 1 responded to a call which came in at 11 a. m. Saturday morning from 212 North Glendale Avenue. The property is owned by Mrs. M. T. Tight and is now occupied by A. A. Livingston. The fire broke out under the floor of the parlor and while its cause has not been definitely ascertained, defective electric wiring is thought to be the origin of the blaze. It was burning merrily when the firemen arrived, but was quickly extinguished with but little damage.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

THE FELLOWSHIP OF STEWARDSHIP REV. EDMONDS' SERMON THEME

"Fellowship of Stewardship" was the topic of the Sunday morning service of the Presbyterian Church. The regular responsive service, sent out by the General Assembly, was used for hymn, prayer and Scripture. The choir rendered the anthem as usual, and Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts sang the offertory solo.

Jack and Jane proved to be James Cooper and Mrs. Estella Des Plantes, who took part in a dialogue representing a young married couple. At the beginning of their home life, these young people faced their responsibility to God as owner of their lives and their prosperity. They worked out a family budget accounting for their money and its various uses for giving, living and saving The dialogue was a unique feature, but it taught its lesson of Stewardship.

The sermon by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, showed him to be an enthusiastic believer in Stewardship. Three ships were presented: Comradeship, Fellowship, Stewardship. There are three partners:

GLENDALE LEGION

ACKNOWLEDGES BEAUTIFUL GIFT FROM GLENDALE RED CROSS CHAPTER

Mrs. John Robert White, secretary of the Red Cross Chapter, was commissioned to perform the pleasant task of presenting to Capt. Dru W. Nicoles, chairman of the executive committee of the Glendale Post of the American Legion, a cheque for $250 from the treasury of the chapter. She says she felt immensely compensated on behalf of the organization when she saw the smile of pleasure that overspread the face of Mr. Nicoles as he took the cheque and discovered its import. Accompanying the cheque was the following letter of explanation:

Glendale, Cal.
Dec. 22, 1919.

NEW HOUSES FIND PURCHASERS

Of the several houses built by Fred W. Pigg, one at the northwest corner of Lexington Drive and Kenwood Street, a six-room bungalow of the Colonial type, has been purchased by John R. Hunter, a recent arrival from Chicago, although the house is not yet completed. Another of the Pigg houses on Jackson just north of Doran Street has been bought by Clifford Channen, and a seven-room colonial at 1294 South Boynton Street has been purchased by C. F. Kuhnle, who has been living at 804 East Acacia. Mrs. Nellie R. Rogers, who came here from Illinois., has purchased the six-room bungalow at 535 North Kenwood for a permanent home.

LEEDS HOPES TO RETURN TO GLENDALE

R. P. Leeds, who sold his interest in the auto repair shop in rear of the Bartlett & French Building a few weeks ago to his partner, Jack Armstrong, and returned to his home in Worcester, Mass., on account of family interests, is now in El Paso, Texas, and writes his former partner that he strongly desires to return to Glendale, which he thinks is ideal for business and residence purpose. Mr. Armstrong expects him back here before many weeks.

MUSSERS SELL THEIR HOME

Mel G. Musser and wife recently sold their home at 335 West Windsor Road and after January 1st will move to Hollywood, occupying part of the home of Mrs. Dissett, a former neighbor. Their main reason for selling was to locate near the new Christian College soon to be erected on Vermont Avenue, next to the State University, so they can enter their eldest daughter, Miss Frances, at the opening term next September.

VINE STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Vine Street is not the least among the highways of Glendale, short though it may be, for it has not lagged behind in the march of improvement. A beautiful six-room bungalow was erected recently at 436 Vine Street, a two-story addition built to the J. E. Audet house; No. 439, an addition built to the house formerly owned by H. H. Cox at 516 and a four-room and a six-room apartment added to O. L. Kilborn's large building, No. 501. The property at 529 has changed hands twice recently and many others have been sold one or more times.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION NEEDED IN GLENDALE

Conditions are such in Glendale now that it would be a great advantage to the merchants if they could have an organization the purpose of which would be for the betterment of the business section of Glendale. Several years ago there was a very strong merchants' association and there were many projects worked out for the good of the business men. As everyone knows war conditions made it impracticable for such organizations to continue at work and the result has been that there is now no authorized merchants' association.

One important question that needs attention at present is the location in Glendale of a branch office of the Southern California Automobile Club. The club recognizes the need of having a branch office in Glendale and has, as we have been informed, all preparations made for locating here but it is indeed embarrassing for them to crowd themselves upon a people who have not asked them to have a branch home in the community.

Another project that needs agitation and the backing of the business men of Glendale is the arranging for a first class hotel suitable for a city of 15,000 or 20,000 population. While there are many citizens who are interested in an enterprise of this character there is no one so vitally interested as are the merchants.

It is a well-known fact that at the present time a stranger can come into our city and attempt to work the merchants for about any kind of a fake scheme and they have no way of conferring with one another as to the best method of keeping such men out.

The Evening News is thoroughly familiar with the need of a merchants' association and is ready to cooperate with any person who will take an active part in forming such an organization. The prosperity of the community depends very much on the interest the business men of the community take in the affairs of the city.

WHAT DO YOU DO WHEN YOU FIND A LOST ARTICLE?

A newspaper office is a good school for the student of human nature. The tactics of those who find lost articles make an interesting study alone, and form a pretty good index to character.

There is the perfectly honest person who sympathizes with the loser, and does not feel entitled to the article he picks up on the street any more than if it were in the owner's safe. He follows the golden rule and makes every effort to find the loser without hope or wish for reward.

There is another kind of "finder" who wants to be perfectly honest and hopes to return the lost article to the owner but he makes no effort to find the loser. He sits back and awaits developments, watching to see if the article is advertised.

Another type tries to make capital out of another's misfortune and holds the article until a reward is offered. A woman once found a brooch of very odd design which she recognized at once as belonging to an acquaintance. The pin was advertised by the owner several times without avail and not until she offered a reward was her property forthcoming.

A certain type considers "finders keepers." They appropriate for their own use any article they may find. If it is something for which they have no use, it is carelessly thrown aside.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN GIVEN CHRISTMAS TREAT

Little Margie Current of 231 N. Belmont, who has been lying helpless for eight weeks with a plaster cast on one ankle, was given two rare Christmas treats. She is a member of the Crippled Children's Guild, organized by a Sunday school class of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles several years ago. While the members are expected to pay regular hospital fees, the services of an eminent physician are given them, free of all charge. On the Friday before Christmas the little crippled children were all taken to the church in autos and given a fine Christmas treat and an afternoon of rare enjoyment. And yesterday Mrs. Sheppard, a wealthy and charitable lady of Hollywood, sent out autos and gathered up all the little crippled ones to be taken to her beautiful home.

There were from 60 to 65 of them and they were given a bountiful meal and many nice presents from the large tree she had provided. Margie was the only guest from Glendale. Surely a charity of this kind in which little children are helped and given happiness is one of the noblest the church can offer.

Personals

Mr. Frank Viand of 1417 North Central Avenue intends to move to Sherman January 5.

J. C. Barnett of 718 South Brand came home from Needles to spend the holidays. He expects to leave for Chicago on a business trip the first of the year.

Mrs. Esther Hodding, a new comer to Glendale who is located at 360 Ivy Street, is a teacher of piano. She specializes in the teaching of children and is said to have been very successful in her work elsewhere.

W. W. Cannaday, a former resident of Glendale who has gone north to take a fine position with a fruit distributing concern, will return to Glendale for a few days after the first of January. He says he likes the north pretty well, but that he will be glad to be back in Glendale once more.

Mr. and Mrs. J .H. Braly of this city and Mrs. Wells, sister and house guest of Mrs. Braly, spent Christmas day at the home of Arthur Braly in Pasadena, where a dinner was served to seventeen. The house was beautifully decorated with roses and Christmas greens, there was a beautiful tree loaded with presents, and every guest had a delightful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross of Milford Street were dinner guests of Harry Greenwalt and wife, 408 Oak Street, Saturday. They are recently from Muskegon. Mich., where Mr. Ross was with the Continental Motor Company. He is now superintendent of production for the Moreland Motor Truck Company of Burbank.

George R. Rees and his family motored from Redlands last Wednesday to spend Christmas with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. White, Miss Ida E. Hicks and George Walker. Miss Grace Rees will remain here until next week when she, Miss Hicks, and George Walker will return with her to Redlands to spend New Year's day.

The Pacific Union Conference headquarters will be moved next Wednesday from 318 East Broadway, over Booth's Grocery, to offices over the Glendale Hardware Company at 601 East Broadway. Mr. Frank Booth, proprietor of the grocery at 318 East Broadway, will move from 1729 Gardena Avenue to the rooms which the Pacific Union Conference will vacate.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Crane of Clear Lake, Iowa, are visiting Mrs. Crane's parents, J. K. Hill and wife of 420 North Kenwood. Mr. Crane is to return to Iowa the middle of February, but his wife will remain till May 1. They are wonderfully impressed with Glendale and if it were not that Mr. Crane has heavy business interests in the Iowa home, they would locate in Glendale at once.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Mason of 204½ East Chestnut spent rather a lonely Christmas this year. They were disappointed that their daughter Gladys May and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. De Reimer of Calexico, could not be with them. Their son, James Mason, is in San Francisco and could not be here either. James Mason's friends will be interested to know that he did not make his usual Alaska trip this year.

John and Robert Copeland of 518 West Colorado Street, ages twelve and fifteen respectively, have done some notable trapping in the past couple weeks in the river bed. First they caught a wild cat. After keeping it several days, they caught another. The boys decided that they could tan the furs, and killed the wild cats. Just the other day they came home with a fox in their arms. They had also trapped the fox in the river bed. It is creating quite a bit of excitement among the youngsters on Colorado Street, while the boys' parents are wondering what they will bring home next.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Flutot and two sons, Edward and Robert, of 412 Oak Street, spent Sunday on their walnut ranch near Whittier.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Brewer of Broadway, former residents on Maryland Avenue, were Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Usilton.

J. E. Peters is improving his large residence at 209 North Orange with a new dress of paint. The gables will be yellow, the lower part tan and window and door casings white.

Z. L. Hesse, of 409 East Harvard, who recently finished a carpenter job of eleven weeks' duration at 501 Vine Street, is now working in Eagle Rock for a building contractor.

Lyman Brundage and wife of San Francisco are spending the holidays with L. W. Bosserman and L. B. Ashton families, 614 South Central avenue. Mr. Brundage is a nephew of Mr. Ashton.

Mrs. L. E. Berkey and three children of Buena Park were the guests the latter part of the week of Mrs. R. C. Berkey. Mr. Berkey has been very unwell of late, so was unable to accompany them on this visit.

The apartment house at the southwest corner of Harvard and Kenwood streets, which has previously been rented unfurnished, was recently sold and the new owner will remodel it, furnish all the apartments and rent them thus.

Albert Mills, who some time since bought the lot at the northeast corner of Pacific Avenue and Vine St., has decided to build thereon so as to have a settled place of residence. He began hauling his lumber Saturday and he has the garage almost completed.

W. F. Tower, who recently remodeled two houses on East Elk Avenue, one of which he moved there and both of which are rented, is engaged now in a similar work on a house he moved on to a lot just back of them, facing on Lomita. He is putting in two apartments, thus trying to relieve the famine in houses.

Mrs. N. Robbins, who for a number of years resided in a home which she and Mr. Robbins built at 317 East Lomita, has been in Glendale the past week dismantling her house preparatory to turning it over to the new owner, Mrs. Edith A. Cross, who is moving from Monrovia today to take possession. Mrs. Robbins has many friends in the neighborhood who were glad to greet her.

CHRISTMAS GATHERING

A happy group of fourteen friends gathered at the Crampton residence at 213 East Chestnut street to spend Christmas together. Red bon bon baskets, place cards and streamers from the chandelier above made a very effective and brilliant table decocation, and the rich color scheme was repeated throughout the house with red Christmas bells, poinsettia lamp shades and quantities of greenery. The evening was spent with games and music. At nine o'clock an informal buffet supper was served by the hostess and the guests separated after singing Christmas carols. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meyers of Pasadena, Mrs. W. H. Hildreth of Manzanar, Inyo County; Mrs. Mary E. Flynn of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Isitt, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hallett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Vivian Miller, all of Glendale; Miss Grace Crampton and the host and hostess.

FAMILY GATHERING AT SCOTT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. George Scott of 606 East Lomita entertained a family party with a Christmas dinner on Thursday, their guest list including Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Archer, Mrs. E. F. Archer, and son, Lyle, Mrs. Stella Trowbridge from Topeka, and her friend, Miss Townsend, also from Topeka, who are here for the winter: Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts. The table was centered with poinsettias and elsewhere holly was used for decoration with effective results. The dinner was followed by a pleasant social afternoon.

XVI CLUB

The XVI Club was very pleasantly entertained last week by Mrs. Albert Cornwell at her new home on Central Avenue. The afternoon was devoted to needlework and chat, a luncheon being served at the close. Plans were made for philanthropic work to be taken up at the next two meetings and for a luncheon in Los Angeles January 10th, to be followed by a matinee party.

HAD A BAD EYE

W. R. Jarrett, the plumber, got up Wednesday morning with an intense pain in his left eye and had to at once bind it up, the light hurting it so severely. He was finally compelled to consult an eye expert and he, after a thorough examination, discovered two small particles of steel in the afflicted eye. When these were removed the pain ceased and he is now as well as ever.

MR. AND MRS. PIGG HAVE FAMILY PARTY

The big Christmas party given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Pigg of 634 North Kenwood St. was a great success, according to the nineteen guests who gathered at that hospitable board. The house and tables were decorated with poinsettias and Christmas greens, the children of the party having a separate table centered with a small Christmas tree decorated and illuminated with candles. Poinsettias also featured the hand-painted place cards. Following the dinner the presents were distributed and an afternoon of fun was enjoyed. A buffet supper was served, followed by the singing of Christmas carols. Those present were: Mrs. M. Ewell Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phillips and daughters, Anna Ewell and Geraldine, from Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, and daughter, Katherine, Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and daughter, Miss Winifred Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Furst, the host and hostess and their sons, Dudley and Billy Pigg.

FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cushman of 208 East Maple Street on Christmas day. Those present were: Mrs. Cushman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hughart, and brother, Arthur Hughart from San Fernando, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Diehl and young son, Richard, from Hollywood; Mrs. Georgie Feeley of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thrasher of Anaheim. A sister, Mrs. May Wise, gave them all a very pleasant surprise. She is from Tulsa, Okla., and arrived at Mrs. Cushman's home unexpectedly. Mrs. Cushman's niece, Miss Leila Freybert, was united in marriage to Victor Baird of Santa Ana before coming to Mrs. Cushman's house.

The dinner table, at which covers were laid for all the foregoing and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Cushman and son, Arnold, was centered with red carnations and ferns. The house was decorated with poinsettias and other Christmas flowers and greens. After the dinner, Santa Claus appeared and distributed the gifts.

A Happy New Year
On the threshold of another New Year we want to pause to thank our friends and patrons for the very liberal business accorded us during the past year. As one and all you soon turn the corner into the New Year, look back a minute over the road you have been traveling the past year. Have you saved anything for the "rainy day" that never fails to come? Have you been true to yourself and your family? If not, once more before you step out into the pure New Year call at our bank and make a deposit, if only of one dollar and in twelve more short months take another retrospective glance and see how much pleased you will be with yourself and with the way your dollars have multiplied from the one little seed you planted in our bank, January 1, 1920. We wish every young man in the community would start a bank account with the New Year. It would not mean much to us but it would mean lots to them. How many will make the experiment? This is our advice and like salvation, it's free. Try it. While the feeling of good fellowship is in the air and good resolutions are being made for the New Year, would it not be a good idea to resolve that you will save more money during the coming year than during the past one; then come in and open an account with us and then watch it grow.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

God, the individual and society.

The text was a clause of Luke 16:5, "How Much Ownest Thou Unto My Lord." All belongs to God; Life, land, money, all material resources. Man is but a steward, and must render an account unto God of how he has used his time, strength and money. The dollar is but a means. God is the end. The theme of the sermon was emphasized by a number of striking charts. "Man makes money, but money makes the man; that is, his use or abuse of it." "To own is but to owe." These were two of the many pithy statements. Loyalty in stewardship, the law of square deal, faithfulness as a steward, were other points brought out, leading up to the fact that God has a right to levy His tax upon his own and we must pay. "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

Stewardship blanks were passed and in a reverent, thoughtful way many decisions were made and registered as young and old, rich and poor signified their intention to give to God a definite proportion of their time and money.

GLENDALE LEGION

Year and a Christmas gift of $250 to help in furnishing our Legion home.

To say that we appreciate these greetings and this most acceptable gift does not express our real feelings, for it is impossible for words to convey our thanks to you.

You can rest assured that the Glendale Post will always remember their first Christmas with a feeling of gratitude towards the Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Trusting that you will accept our wishes for a successful New Year and offering the assistance and cooperation of this Post to the Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross at any time, we remain.

Sincerely yours,
Glendale Post, No. 127, American Legion, Executive Committee.
Dru W. Nicoles,
Chairman.

The men of the Glendale Post are anxious to prove that their patriotism flames just as high as it did when they wore the uniform of the army and that they are just as anxious to serve their country in peace as in war. In these serious times of reconstruction they feel there is a chance to demonstrate good citizenship and work for the betterment of their country. They are deeply grateful for such marks of appreciation of what they tried to do as are shown by this gift which they are acknowledging and declare they will continue to deserve the confidence of their countrymen.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

IT IS ESPECIALLY PROMINENT IN SUNDAY SERVICES AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"After a U. S. torpedo boat disaster during the recent war, two brave jackies lay side by side in a hospital with death very near. One of them, crazed with his awful injuries, poured forth constant curses and blasphemies. His comrade, who had uttered hardly a groan, turned to him and said: "Hold hard, shipmate. We have done our duty as we saw it and now have but a few hours to live. Let's be decent.'"

These were the opening words of Rev. C. A. Cole's sermon at Central Christian Church Sunday morning and be made the application thus:

"Our lives here on earth are very brief. We have but a few more days to live. Let's be decent." The old year is almost gone. It had its triumphs and its defeats. Let us put them all behind us looking only to the future with its many opportunities for good. With Paul let us say: "Forgetting the things that are behind. I press forward toward the mark of the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." We should forget all the troubles and griefs and animosities of the past and in the new year strive ever for that which is good. Blessed is he who has a good "forget-ery." We have missed many opportunities for helping our fellow man in the past. Let us take advantage of those that are sure to come in the new year. Pastor Cole's discourse was along these lines and was most helpful. Choir and congregational singing added much to the interest of the services.

In the evening, all the Christmas anthems were repeated by the choir, with some additions, as this was distinctly a song service. In the beginning the lights were all turned out and then the choir, the ladies all in white and each member carrying a lighted candle, marched to the front very slowly, singing "Silent Night, Hallowed Night." This was a most impressive opening of the service. The lights were then turned on and all joined in singing "Joy to the World, the Lord is Come." The Christmas anthems followed, interspersed with congregational singing and then Rev. Cole made a short talk on "The Songs of Long Ago," telling how the sweet hymns of Luther, Calvin, Knox, Wesley and others had sped the reformation. One striking statement was that "Heathendom has no hymnbook." It is only when salvation is realized that the once pagan breaks forth into song. Buddahism, Mohammedanism, Confucianism, Shintoism and other pagan religions have no hymns nor songs of praise. Whatever music they have is depressing and terrifying. But with the Christian religion, its hymns inspire all. They cheer the living and comfort the dying. Some great man once said, "Let me write a nation's songs and I care not who makes her laws."

Both services were very largely attended. At the close of the evening worship Rev. Cole spoke a few words of farewell to the M. G. Musser family, who have been faithful members of the church from the very first and who are leaving this week for their new home in Los Angeles on Larchmont Boulevard, near Melrose Avenue.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

Or help to make our feast complete,
But the "circle" you know, is the sign
Of Friendship—that tie most sublime,
Which binds us all at Christmas time.

Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men,
The Love of home, the thought of friend
That brings us here, from far and near
To fill this day with joy and cheer.

And we can all most truly say
We've had a perfect Christmas Day.

The unique feature of the delicious dinner served at one o'clock was that it was contributed by the several families participating. Those gathered about the beautiful decorated table were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clutter and two children, Fay and Carl; his father and mother, and Mrs. Clutter's mother, Mrs. Morrow; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sherrick, Miss Mary Sherrick and Milo Sherrick, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Habensack and daughter, Grace; Mr. and Mrs. Birchfield and Miss Margaret Birchfield; Mrs. Inez Fess, all former residents of Lima; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wolber and baby, Edith; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Fish, Mrs. T. Gregory, Miss Ella Stowe of Glendale and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingledue and daughter, Elta, of Los Angeles.

A ROYAL CHRISTMAS GIFT

Harry Allen Marple made his appearance Christmas morning early at 916 North Central Avenue, where his rejoicing parents, Harry and Jessie Crouch Marple, are now living. He is a big lusty youngster and his daddy, especially is wonderfully delighted, as the first child, now over two years old, is a girl.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES

December 21st was a merry day for all who attended the Christmas tree festivities at the New Thought Center, 232 South Brand Boulevard, Masonic Temple.

Promptly at 9:45 Sunday school was opened with silent prayer of thanksgiving for the abundant supply of all good that is in nature, God's storehouse, for the warm sunshine which added brightness to the Christmas greetings, and for the many who responded to rollcall.

Following silent prayer, the Lord's prayer was repeated audibly by all present. The remainder of the hour was given to the children to do as they wished.

In a short time, older scholars, teachers, parents and friends forgot the lapse of time marked by years, were frolicking with the little folks. Amid a scene of childish play, a halt brought all to the Christmas tree, leadened with the usual glitter, sweets and goodies standing upon the platform in a bed of snow. (?)

Under the tree stood the rosebud (inafnt) class and sang a Christmas tree song.

Following the familiar hymn, "Joy to the World, the Lord Is Come," was heartily sung by all those present.

Dr. Riley, in a few remarks and with a Bible reading, spoke of the birth of the Christ, and explained the meaning of the evergreen tree, the gifts, lights. The final prayer by the school closed the exercises before distributing the candies.

The usual church services were opened at 11 a.m., the subject being "How to Obtain the Greatest Happiness." Many Bible selections referring to the Christ spirit within the "Temple of the Living God" were read; the ancient significance of Christmas, the tree, gifts and lights were explained. The speaker said: "To understand the full meaning of Christ's words to his disciples in John 14:27 one must securely fasten the doors of all the external senses against every material object. He will then be still and know that God is near; he will then 'Abide in the secret place of the most high;' he will be in the closet, shut the door and pray to the Father in secret. The spiritual eye will see only the divine man, the Christ spirit within, the ear will hear the voice of Truth; the fragrance of heavenly perfume will pervade his being; his mind will understand and the words of the Psalmist, 'Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good.' He will feel the Christ spirit swelling up in his soul like a fountain of great joy. He will then receive the New Birth; he will have found the source of greatest happiness."

Christmas time is a true awakening of an inward spiritual enfoldment, and a dear realization of Christ's love within the soul, brings peace, happiness and power.
